

Contents

Foreword	9
Mats Jansson and Sandra Richter
Introduction	11
The Art of Criticism; Criticism as Art
Camille Laurens
Art is Easy, but Criticism is Difficult	27
Juan Gabriel Vásquez
Fiction as Criticism
Notes From a Novelist's Diary	34
Zeruya Shalev
Fate and Judgement	40
Daniel Kehlmann
On Being Criticized —
A Few Psychological Remarks	46
Criticism, Public Spheres, and the Literary Institution
Zoltán Kulcsár-Szabó
Digital Publicness and Textual Authority:
Criticism Debates in Hungary around the Millennium.	53
Lionel Ruffel
For an Institutional Literary Critique	62
Magnus William-Olsson
REPLACING. REPLANTING. REACTING.
Nobel Symposiumpaper Re-edited for Speech Choir.	71

Critical Readings: Contemporary Perspectives

Florencia Garramuño

Critical Intervention and Literary Criticism:

Reading Literature in the Twenty-First Century 77

Christopher Odhiambo Joseph

Postmortem as a Critical Trope

of Reading War Literature in Eastern Africa 85

Rebecka Kärde

What Is the Object of Criticism? 104

Criticism, Globalism, and Language(s)

Ronya Othmann

Criticism and Crisis 113

Xu Xi

The Problem of English in Contemporary Literature

(in the Fora of Criticism) 121

Richard Jacquemond

Who Determines the Arabic Literary Canon? 146

Galin Tihanov

How Do Literary Periods Accrue Value?

Notes on Romanticism and its Afterlives. 155

Criticism, Ranking, and Digitalization

James F. English

Five Star Stories: Readers and Ratings. 169

Mark McGurl

Criticism at Scale:

BookTube and Literary Hyper-Abundance 183

Phillipa K. Chong

The Ecosystem of Book Reviews 196

Biographies 209

Index. 217